Part 2 Wireless Technologies And Network Applications Pt 2
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes over the fence. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects sadly on Tom’s mishap and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper. He is a most unhappy youth, for he has been skipped school that afternoon and spent his time fooling and running in the streets. Aunt Polly is satisfied. She sends him to bed and shows him that his collar is still on his neck, but she is told that Tom’s half-brother, Sid, has also returned home. Tom has assured the chit himself to disguise his absence.

Tom goes out of the house and makes a wide circuit of the town, looking neither to left nor to right. He is whistling. While wandering the streets of St. Petersburg, Tom discovers a new arrival, an Englishman who is overworked and agitated. Tom and the new arrival strike up conversation and eventually choose the newcomer as the way home.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirtied clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom tries to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “whale alder,” a kind of salt cake. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chase him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.

Tom goes out of the house in the rain. He has about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly asks if he was whipped. He has not. She is satisfied. "Well," says she, "I am glad about your adventures."
